

High School Parent Advisory Council

Welcome to the home page of the High School Parent Advisory Council. This council is an avenue for parents to express ideas and or concerns. Our goal is to work with the high school administration in improving the school.

The advisory council comprises of an elected chair, treasurer, and secretary, nine parent representatives, and the high school principal and assistant principal.

The council has divided itself into 4 sub committees:

Booster Club: Our goal is to assist the high school with EMAC and KSAA activities, as well as boosting school spirit. We are looking for parents and student volunteers to support school teams during competitions.

Social: Our goal is to promote a positive social network that involves parents, students, and teachers by organizing various events throughout the year.

Media: Our goal is to celebrate the learning, diversity, and events at AIS. We hope to make better use of local media to highlight what is happening at AIS.

School Improvement: Participation of parents in a variety of ways in their children's education, including decision making, can aid in success for both students and the school.

Objectives of school improvement committee include:

- To make a difference for our children and their school
- Voice concerns of both parents and teachers
- Learn about the day-to-day operations of your school
- Assist the administration with problem solving in an advisory role with regards to:
 - school budget
 - attendance rates
 - dropout rates
 - intervention strategies
 - school improvement
 - parent involvement
 - school uniforms
 - curriculum
 - field trips

If you are interested in helping out with any of these committees, or events that are advertised on this webpage, please e-mail us. We would love to hear from you!
